

Fresh Paint Days in Oklahoma Communities Primed for Change Contest

OFFICIAL RULES & GUIDELINES

THE CONTEST:

Fresh Paint Days (FPD) is a Keep Oklahoma Beautiful (KOB) program designed to encourage organizations and volunteers to seek out unsightly buildings in their community and renovate them with the creative use of resources. Each participating group is given enough paint to complete their project and a stipend for supplies.

Organizations wishing to participate in FPD must submit an application to KOB during the application period (June 1 - July 31). KOB reviews each application and selects the participants based solely on the information and photos presented in the application packet, including a before photo. Approved projects will be notified mid-August, paint will be delivered at the end of August, and projects will take place throughout September.

At the conclusion of each project, the organization or group is required to submit a wrap-up report that includes after photos of the project described in the application.

Upon receiving all the photos from the participating organizations, KOB will then enter each organization into the "Communities Primed for Change" contest.
